

Dear FCC,

To whom it may concern,

I am a resident of WI. I have chosen to take part in the No call list offered in my state. In the newspaper here I see that you have been asked to destroy and void my protection from unwanted telemarketing phone calls. Since I have been I this list I have not receive one unsolicited phone call that would keep me awake. I work as a fire fighter in my local area. This list have given me that ability to get some sleep during the day. Why is it that when a business thinks that the state is protecting there residents too much they cry for help to big brother. I want you to leave my No Call list alone. This is my protection against these companies that don't stop calling you when you tell them to and don't have a set standard on how long it will take for them to remove your name and number from there calling databases. You people at the FCC should follow suite with WI and adopt Wisconsin's "No Call List" and make it the federal standard. This would give all citizens in the US a little more protection against unwanted phone calls. Do you like to hear the phone ringing threw your supper meal with you family or loved ones. I know I don't and I like my house payments, credit cards, long distance carrier, and vacations where I choose to do business or have them. Let me make the choice not you and not the Bank lobbyist.

Sincerely,

Nathan
